UNION PACIFIC RECEIVERS CONFER
PRESIDENT CLARK SAW LITTLE INDICATION OF A BUSINESS REVIVAL IN THIS WEST.

The Union Pacific receivers have been in session for two days. A formidable array of men of note is to be found at the management offices, at No. 32 Wall-st., in spite of the fact that the court has now granted the principally abstinent of $100,000 a year for each receiver which has been asked. The indications are over "routine matters," which, according to the statements of the receivers, cannot be converted into a "good newspaper story." S. H. H. Clark, the president of the company, as well as one of the receivers, has just arrived from the West, and was with his colleagues yesterday. Mr. Clark said to a Tribune reporter that he saw no prospect of any great change in traffic conditions at the present time. There was no important improvement in the mining industry, but there seemed to be more hope in Colorado. The recent fresh break in the price of silver had not excited particular comment, as for months the only production of silver at the West had been of relatively small amount, and could never affect the market at the ruling values. Mr. Clark added that the low price of wheat was depressing the farming industry, and that the general indication of a decline was to reveal itself in the West.

There will be a hearing at Omaha on March 25, by United States Circuit Judges, Cushing and Sanborn, in relation to the suit, brought by the Union Pacific, Denver and Gulf, concerning which there have been conflicting orders issued by the United States District Judges of Nebraska and Colorado. The case is important in that it will only result in a determination of the question of jurisdiction between the Nebraska and Colorado courts, but will affect the future relations of the Denver and Gulf and the Union Pacific, as indicated by the receiver yesterday that the disputed question of wages between them and the Union Pacific employees might possibly be adjusted by arbitration.

"The receivers are disposed to treat this matter with the utmost consideration and regard for the well-being of the employees, consistent with the fulfillment of their obligations to their trust."

AMENDING A FORECLOSURE BILL.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, under whose foreclosure suit receivers were appointed for the Northern Pacific Railroad, filed an amendment today to its bill in the United States Circuit Court, to add the Illinois Central, the Duluth and Superior, and the Chicago and Great Western Railroad companies defendants on account of the leases under which they use part of the tracks of the Northern Pacific.

PRESIDENT HARRIS A WITNESS.

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—President Harris of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company was on the stand to-day at the hearing before Master Crawford. Mr. Harris told of the settlement by the receivers of the Prince and Ervin claim, which grew out of the Boston and Maine and New-York and New-England transactions of A. A. McLeod and which has been repeatedly published. When asked by Mr. Blyer why the receivers did not ask the authority of the Court before paying the Prince and His Sons claim, Mr. Harris said that he and his fellow receivers did not bother the Court with every detail connected with the management of the Reading property. This led Mr. Blyer to inquire why the receivers had not paid the McLeod claim, which had been raised, sitting at a cost of $25,000, and not confer with it concerning Mr. McLeod's stock transactions, which involved the President Harris in a difficulty, in connection with his stock in the Reading. Here the matter ended.

The Reading's president then briefly dwelt upon coal purchases by the Reading, nothing being developed, but said that the Reading had a leasehold interest in the latter road had not yet been settled. Controller Jones was also examined.

HARVARD AND RADCLIFFE COLLEGE.

Boston, Feb. 21.—The General Court is asked not to incorporate any degree-conferring college under the name of Radcliffe College, for the present at least. The Society for the Collegiate Instruction of Women asks for a charter for what is called the Annex, but there is a big opposition, including graduates of the Harvard Annex as well as many men who are Harvard alums, and who believe that women should be admitted to the full privileges of the university. The law would give different colleges who want Harvard degrees for the same graduates the right to award them, and who sign this petition are evidently in earnest. They petitioned that Harvard represent not Radcliffe College, a school pendant to the chain of college and professional schools which make up Harvard University, but those men could not see their way clear to the granting of full degrees to women. They asked the Society for the Collegiate Instruction of Women not to accept a half-and-half sort of relation with Harvard. But the society replied through the president, Mrs. Agassiz, that in effect the proposed arrangement is satisfactory.

SUICIDE OF HUSBAND AND WIFE.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 21.—J. H. Hopewell, a restaurant keeper, committed suicide during the night of this morning, and was found this afternoon with a bullet in his brain and his wife dying beside him. They had both taken morphine, and Hopewell left a note saying the drug would not work on him, hence he used a revolver. Business troubles, culminating in a fire a week ago, is the supposed cause.
